Admission Policy for the Doctoral Program

- 1. The Graduate School is looking for people who are motivated to engage in research activities that sharpen and deepen understanding of research in the three central disciplines of sports science: sports science, sports social science, and health science, which form the academic pillars of the Graduate School.

The doctoral program's highest priority is enhancing expertise, but students should not limit themselves to mere specialization as they should enthusiastically engage in the establishment of sports health science by synthesizing the results of the following types of research.

- (1) Deepening nomothetic research on sports
- (2) Pioneering research on the social impact of sports
- (3) Developing research on comprehensive health-building

- 2. The Graduate School is looking for people who can contribute to the establishment of cultural life with physical, mental and social well-being.

With the aim of shaping people's healthy and cultural lives, students should be interested in acquiring advanced knowledge related to sports science and health sciences as well as highly advanced knowledge and skills related to social science management ability, or in acquiring knowledge and skills that are indispensable for people to enrich their sports lives and develop comprehensive health promotion programs in practice, while enthusiastically engaging in development and research of more advanced educational programs.

Note: Permanent residents and special permanent residents do not qualify under this category.

Those currently residing outside Japan can still apply through the pre-arrival admission permission scheme (a system that allows foreign student applicants to participate in Japanese university entrance examinations while abroad, with the possibility of obtaining admission upon achieving a successful result)

*Applicants planning to file an application according to the qualification (4) are subject to an examination of qualification for application in advance. Depending on your educational background, the examination may take a considerable amount of time. Therefore, please contact the university office indicated in “9. Where to submit your application documents and inquiries” well in advance and check the documents required for the examination. Application for screening of application eligibility is limited to one application within the same academic year, on the premise that the applicant will apply for the Graduate School entrance examination in that academic year.

<Deadline for application for examination of qualification for application>

Schedule-A examination preferred	Documents must be received no later than August 21, 2026 (Friday) (Japan time)
Schedule-B examination preferred	Documents must be received no later than October 15, 2026 (Thursday) (Japan time)
Schedule-C examination preferred	Documents must be received no later than December 24, 2026 (Thursday) (Japan time)

*Those who currently live outside Japan can also apply under the pre-arrival admission scheme. (The pre-arrival admission scheme is a scheme in Japan that allows foreign students to take the entrance examination for Japanese universities, while they are in their own country, and to obtain admission if they pass the examination.)

■Accommodations for the entrance examination and academic life

If you require special arrangements during the entrance examinations or your student life after admission due to disabilities or illnesses, you must consult with the university prior to applying. Please review the following information and contact us.

Application for Accommodations for the Entrance Examination

Prior to applying for each entrance examination, please ensure that you consult with “11. Where to Submit Application Documents and Inquiries” by the deadline specified below.

After your consultation, we will provide information regarding the specific application procedures and other requirements

Entrance Examination	Consultation Deadline
Schedule A	By August 26, 2026
Schedule B	By October 27, 2026
Schedule C	By January 5, 2027

[Notes]

- Depending on the nature of the request, it may take time to respond; therefore, please contact us well in advance.
- Please be aware that for consultations received after the deadline, it may not be possible to conduct sufficient discussions regarding the details and implementation of accommodations. As a result, providing necessary and appropriate accommodations may become difficult.
- Following the receipt of your application, it will be reviewed and coordinated within the university. Please understand that we may not be able to accommodate all requests.
- In case of unavoidable circumstances, such as unforeseen accidents or sudden illness, that prevent you from contacting us by the deadline, please contact “11. Where to Submit Application Documents and Inquiries” as soon as possible.
- If you use hearing aids, wheelchairs, or other assistive devices in your daily life and intend to use them on the day of the examination, you must submit an application in advance to allow for venue arrangements.
- Prior application is not required for the use of items such as seat cushions, cushions, towels, lap blankets, or gloves (including those for hyperhidrosis). However, you must inform the proctor before the examination starts and obtain permission before use. Please note that the proctor may deny use after inspection.

Application for Accommodations for Academic Life after Admission

After the admission decision, individual consultations and reviews will be conducted based on the actual curriculum and the environment of the practical training facilities. Even if accommodations were not required during the entrance examination, if you wish to receive accommodations for your academic life after admission, please consult with us promptly after completing the enrollment procedures

4. Selecting your Research Supervisor

Please refer to the faculty list on the website for summaries of each faculty member's research. Our graduate school has both primary research advisors and assistant research advisors.

If your desired advisor is an assistant research advisor, please consult with them to decide on a primary research advisor and then list your desired primary research advisor on your application form.

Please check the website to determine which category your desired advisor falls into.

Please contact the faculty member you wish to have as your research advisor (simultaneous contact with multiple faculty members is not allowed). Discuss and verify your research plan with the selected supervisor. If you do not know the contact details of the faculty member in question, please send an email to the address listed under “9. Where to submit your application documents and inquiries” containing the following information:

1. The University / School you graduated from (including faculty.)
2. Graduation date (Month, Year)
3. Current job (only for those who have already graduated)
4. Your desired Research Supervisor
5. Brief description of your research theme (a few lines are sufficient).
6. Research methods (Experiments, measurement items, questionnaires, interviews, etc.) and attributes of research subjects (age, sport, etc.) * Please enter "6." to the extent possible.

If you are unsure which research supervisor matches your proposed research theme, please use the Research Supervisor Inquiry Form on the University website. After we receive your form, we will evaluate potential supervisors and contact you. Please allow at least three business days for a response, so contact us well in advance.

	Facility and Equipment Fees	¥50,000	¥25,000
	Total	¥625,000	¥312,500

Successful applicants are required to pay tuition fees within the enrollment procedure period described in the application guidelines [6.Entrance examination schedule (From application to enrollment procedures)].

※(Note) As a general rule, payments made will not be returned. However, we will refund the amount of the deposit made less the matriculation fee only for candidates who decline admission by 4:00 p.m. on March 31, 2027, and submit a request for refusal of enrollment and a request for refund of the deposit required by our university.

11. Classes

Classes are basically conducted in Japanese, but we are considering support for classes in English. Concrete contents of the support will be announced on the website as soon as they are decided.

The timetable for each class in AY2026 is available on our website. This is not the schedule for AY2027, so please use it only as reference information.

12. Scholarship

(1) Under the Juntendo University Graduate School Enrollment Scholarship Benefit Rules, alumni of Juntendo University, Juntendo Medical College of Nursing, Juntendo Nursing College, those who have completed or are currently undergoing clinical training at a Juntendo University Hospital, those who have been employed as full-time faculty members at a Juntendo University Hospital within one year prior to admission, and current university employees (who are full-time at the time of admission) may submit a scholarship application after enrolling. If selected, they are eligible to receive a scholarship covering half of their matriculation fees.

(2) Self-funded international students (i.e., those who can obtain a student residency status at our university after admission) may be eligible to receive a scholarship covering a portion of their tuition fees, in accordance with Juntendo University's Regulations on Scholarships for International Students.

Details will be provided after enrollment.

(3) International students, who have enrolled living outside Japan under the pre-arrival admission scheme and can obtain "Student" visa after admission, may also apply for the scholarship "Monbukagakusho Honors Scholarship for Privately-Financed International Students". The details will be provided to the relevant person during enrollment procedures.

(4) For other scholarship loan systems of Japan Student Services Organization (JASSO), please refer to our homepage.

13. Enrollment in student insurance and insurance premiums

Graduate students are asked to join the "Personal Accident Insurance for Students Pursuing Education and Research (PAS)" and the "Liability Insurance coupled with PAS" in order to provide compensation and relief for possible accidents during educational and research activities at the graduate school. Please note that in addition to the matriculation fee and tuition, the following insurance premiums will be required at the time of admission.

Admission category	Lump sum payment at the time of admission
Doctoral Program (3 years)	3,620 yen (plan)

14. Residence for International Students

International students residing outside Japan at the time of application and prior to admission, who will hold a “Student” visa post-admission, are eligible to apply for university-designated apartments. Unlike typical residences in Japan, a guarantor is not required for these apartments.

Conditions:

- (1) Applicants must be living outside Japan at the time of application and before admission.
- (2) Applicants must be foreign nationals planning to reside in Japan with a “Student” visa after enrolling.

Interested applicants are asked to review the residence details on our website and complete the following application procedure. Please note that rent and other expenses are subject to change due to economic circumstances.

After the announcement of successful applicants for Schedules A to C, we will email these individuals to confirm their interest in the accommodations. If the number of interested applicants is within the capacity of available apartments, we will provide details regarding move-in procedures by early March 2027.

If the number of applicants exceeds the available apartments, a lottery will be conducted to determine residency. Those not selected will receive support in finding alternative accommodations through the university’s partners. Confirmation of residency will be finalized by early March 2027. Given this possibility, we recommend considering alternative housing options as a precaution.

15. Notes

- (1) Upon receipt of your documents, we will issue an examination admission ticket to the applicant.
- (2) Once your application has been accepted, the entrance examination fee is not refundable under any circumstances.
- (3) If an applicant who is expected to graduate takes the entrance examination but fails to graduate, the applicant will not be admitted even if he or she passed the examination.
- (4) If you are unable to obtain various certificates due to a disaster, school closure, or other inevitable circumstances, please contact “8. Where to submit your application documents and inquiries” by the deadline of the date of application for your entrance examination. We may take measures regarding your application documents based on advance consultation.
- (5) Please refrain from having contact, interaction, or conversation with other examinees as much as possible.
- (6) In principle, any individual who has not recovered from an infectious disease whose attendance is suspended under the School Health and Safety Act on the day of the examination cannot take the examination due to the risk of infecting other examinees and supervisors (Entrance examination fees, etc., are not refundable). We will consider setting a separate test date only if there is confirmation that the infection has been cured and the examination can be rescheduled.
- (7) Security export control

In order to ensure that the content of education and research for international students, etc., does not hinder the maintenance of international peace and security, we are implementing security export control based on the Foreign Exchange and Foreign Trade Act.

As such, there may be cases when you are requested to change the content of your desired education and research. Please be well aware of this and consult your desired Research Supervisor before submitting your application.

Please apply well in advance of deadline as we will check the content of your desired education and research.

At the time of admission, students are required to sign a written pledge to comply with the Foreign Exchange and Foreign Trade Act.
